DECISION IS RESERVED BY GOVERNMENT

Proposal for Merger of Packing Companies Consdered

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Government officials reserved decision today with regard to the proposal for a consolidation of Armour & Co. and Morris & Co., two of the "big five" Chicago meat packing companies which was placed before them yesterday by J. Ogden Armour. It was indicated that a final opinion would not be forthcoming for some days.

Meantime the various details of the consolidation plan and its probable effect on the industry as a whole and the producing and consuming public were receiving careful study at the department of agriculture. Chester Morrill, assistant to Secretary Wallace, who is in charge of the administration of the new packers and stock yard control act, held all day conferences with department experts on marketing and other related lines.

Mr. Armour had expected an early decision by the government.

He remained in Washington and during the day had an hour's conference with President Harding. He declined to talk about his conference with the executive nor was any statement regarding it forthcoming from the white house. So far as was learned Secretary Wallace had not taken up the Armour plan with Mr. Harding.

Attorney General Daugherty was confined to his apartment at a hotel with a slight indisposition, but at the department of justice is was indicated that the question was not receiving immediate consideration since no plan in detail had been submitted.

Officers of farm organizations in Washington were watching developments in connection with the proposed consolidation.

Gray Silver, for the American Farm Bureau Federation said the matter had been discussed with officials of his organization by those interested as a matter of information. He stated that the federation had not asked for a rehearing before the department of agriculture but added that this did not mean necessarily that a hearing might not be requested as an immediate decision by the department was not anticipated.

At the offices of the National Grange it was stated that no official respecting the proposed consolidation had been obtained and that any expression by the grange would be made at the annual meeting now in progress at Wichita, Kan.

Benjamin J. Marsh of the farmers national council announced that he was writing Secretary Wallace and Attorney General Daugherty asking full information concerning the Armour plan and suggesting that there be more of packer control thru legislation and less packer control of the government.

TEXAS GOVERNOR CALLED UPON TO PROTECT MEXICANS

Secretary Hughes Sent Protest to Executive Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—Secretary Hughes communication to he governor of Texas, demanding hat adequate protection be accorded Mexican nationals n Breckenridge, Texas, alleged by officials of the Mexican embassy to be in danger of mob violence was prompted by a protest received from the embassy last night. The Mexican note followed presentation on the previous day of a similar protest with respect to an incident at West Laco, Texas, where a Mexican citizen was said to have been lynched.

Action of the state department was taken immediately in both cases, separate telegraphic communications to the governor of Texas calling for information as to the charges against Texas state officials, contained in the Mexican protest which alleged that there had been complicity in the West Laco incident on the part of the Texas officials.

The Mexican protest with relation to the situation at Breckenridge dealt with a future and not a past event and lacking information as to the conditions prevailing there, the state department not alone asked that the governor invesigate the report but urged that every protection be accorded to Mexican nationals who might be in danger. The Mexican embassy has been informally advised of the action taken in both cases pending the receipt by the department of the governor's replies.

MUSSOLINI MAKES FIRST APPEARANCE

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Nov. 16.—Benito Mussolini in a dramatic first appearance before parliament as premier today, announced his foreign and international policies and warned his adversaries that the Fasciti government had come to stay. He affirmed its strength to enforce law and order against one and all, even against any illegal coup by his own followers and demanded full powers and full responsibilities.

The Fascisti leader proclaimed a policy of action, not words. He, himself, set an example, for he spoke for only half an hour, and was frequently applauded and cheered.

The Socialists and Communists numbering 118, who have greeted every succeeding government with violent and noisy demanstration of opposition sat in the chamber today silent and subdued. Old leaders like Giolotti, Orlando, Salandra, Facta and Bonomi saw their power wrested from them, without uttering a single objection.

That Mussolini intends to reach a quick vote was indicated when he refused to permit the fifty five orators inscribed on the lists as intending to speak on the government's intention to take the floor.

The premier's entrance to the crowded chamber was hailed with cheers.

Conference for Better Citizenship

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Under leadership of the war department representatives of American schools, colleges and organizations dealing with the mental and physical betterment of the race went into conference here today in the hope that a systematic method of developing young Americans to better citizenship could be evolved. As a basis from which to proceed, the conference was told by Secretary Weeks that statistics of war time draft system showed fifty per cent of the men called for examination to be physically subnormal and disclosed a deplorable percentage of illiteracy.

Mr. Weeks and General Pershing and Brigadier General William Lassiter who also addressed the conference laid stress on the fact that war experience had demonstrated that a great proportion of the physical defects disclosed could be corrected by proper systems of physical training and development beginning in the schools.

All of the information gained by the war department from several years of study of draft statistics in connection with actual war experience were placed at the disposal of the conference which divided itself into sub-committees which will report at a general session of the conference Saturday.

"Our industrial firms are becoming aware of the necessity of definite preparations of young men to be skilled workers and some of them are establishing their own schools for providing such training," General Lassiter said, "but there is little cooperation between the industries and the schools of the country looking toward an increase out of technically skilled men. Thus it is to be noted that in the manufacturing industries and transportation —occupations requiring mechanical skill—there are now about eleven million male workers.

"Furthermore, it does not appear that there are any generally accepted specifications, aptitude tests of efficiency to guide schools in training young men according to their aptitudes. The lack of such definite means for the adjustment of the youth to his task in life and the lack of equally well defined terminology for classifying men with respect to physique, skill and knowledge were among the most serious causes of delay in mobilization for the world war. Consequently, from the point of view both of preparation and citizenship and of preparation for national defense it would appear that it is still necessary to make a well coordinated drive toward the establishment of definite standards of achievement for training young men for their occupations in life."

SLOW WORK IN SELECTING JURY IN HERRIN CASE

Six Jurors in Box When Court Adjourned Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)

MARION, Ill., Nov. 16.—Six jurors were in the jury box late today at the end of the fourth day of the task of selecting a jury to try five men in connection with the Herrin mine killings.

Two more jurors, Berry Deaton, 55, a farmer of near Stone Fort, and W. H. Davidson, 53, a farmer living near New Denison, were accepted today. Four jurors previously had been agreed upon.

The state accepted four prospective jurors and tenrered the panel to the defense which excused one with its peremptory challenge and excused another for cause in which case the state objected and Judge D. T. Hartwell, presiding, agreed to rule upon it tomorrow.

Clyde Crain, of Johnston City, a miner who was accepted by the state, was rejected by the defense. Crain said he had an opinion that the 23 deaths which resulted from riots at the strip mine of the Southern Illinois Coal Company last June 21 and 22, were unlawful, but that he had no opinions.

Judge Hartwell intimated previously that an opinion as to the lawfulness or lawlessness of the killing should not be just reason for an excuse for cause but he overruled the state's objection to the excusing of Crain and said he would review the matter and announce his decision tomorrow morning.

Attorneys expressed the belief tonight that the first regular and special panel of 130 veniremen would be exhausted at noon Friday and that a recess probably will be taken until next week for which another panel of 100 has been called.

During the examination of veniremen the prosecution has used 18 of its 100 peremptory challenges in removing coal miners, who said they had no opinion as to the guilt of the defendants.

These divisions will divide the waters of the river.

Much of the commission's time since it convened has been occupied in the discussion of technical details.

No announcement was made concerning any provision for possible future requirements for the republic of Mexico.

Agriculture will be given preference in rights for use of the water of the stream, according to the commission and none of the existing rights in the river basin will be disturbed.

Chairman Hoover announced that the commission was in full accord regarding the Urgency of immediate erection of control work to protect the Imperial Valley, California from floods.

It was the general expectation tonight that the commission would be able to complete the actual language of the the compact by Saturday next, altho there was said to be a posibility that sessions would go into next week to permit governors and governors-elect of the seven states of the basin to come to Santa Fe. They were invited today by Chairman Hoover.

GRAHAM DIDN'T SPEND ANY MONEY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—Representative Graham, Republican, Illinois, didn't spend any money in his campaign for re-election, he stated in a report filed today with the clerk of the house. But he added this, said to be different from anything yet put in an expense report heretofore:

"Owing to the fact that the senators from my state have absorbed all the federal patronage, and owing to the further lamantable fact that the durn fool alleged civil service order of the president has prevented me from naming postmasters while it makes me responsible for these appointments, I have thought it the better part of discretion to promise nobody anything and hence I am as virtuous as a new born babe as far as promises are concerned. I have made none."

CONFERENCE MAY BE HELD ON SHIP SUBSIDY IS BELIEF

May be Passed Along for Party Consideration Leaders Say

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16—There was a suggestion from some Republican quarters today that the administration shipsubsidy bill certainly as regards the manner of its consideration in the house might be passed along for determination by a party conference.

Reports that the merchant marine committee which framed it would ask for a rule giving it the right of way opportunity for consideration of any amendments except thise presented by the committee itself provoked some outspoken opposition with the party. This ridge however, has not been reached. The rules committee early next week will be asked to give the bill privileged status, but it was said there had been no agreement as to form.

Representative Mondell, the Republican leader discussed the legislature program today with the president but without opportunity meanwhile of talking over plans with his colleagues.

The appropriation bill will not be ready until the December session. First of these will be the treasury bill with its appropriation for prohibtion enforcement over which there may be a lively fight, depending on the amount to be provided by Chairman Madden's communication.

WOMEN VOTERS ARE OPPOSED TO BEER AND LIGHT WINES

Say They Cannot be Legalized Under the Constitution

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 16—Declaring that beer containing 2 3-4 percent alcoholic content and socalled light wines, being intoxicating cannot be legalized under the constitution and that repeal of the Volstead law would leave the government without means of enforcing the 18th amendment, the Illinois League of Women Voters at the close of its annual convention today adopted a resolution condemning all movements intended to nullify or bring into contempt any article contained in the fundamental law of our law.

Another resolution expressed approval of the calling of an international conference for women at The Hague in December to consider the peace treaties and make recommendations for their revision. The resolution declared that the influence of women should be felt in international affairs equally with that of men.

Progressive reorganization of the state school system of Illinois so that Illinois may be among the first states in education was included in the program of work of the committee on education. Many recommendations including one of a larger unit for taxation and administration are included.

The committee on uniform laws for women submitted a program which was adopted and which provided among other things for efforts to obtain laws for health certificates to be required as a prerequisite to mariage fixing the minimum age of consent at 18 years, improvement of civil service laws and appointments and promotions on a merit system without regard to sex, the removal of the clause disqualifying spouses to testify for or against each other and eligibility of women for jury service with exemption for mothers of young children.

The former laundry horse, now seven years old, might still have been going the dull routine rounds at the fort but for the eye of a lover of horse flesh who saw possibilities in the animal. Submersible was relieved of his arduous tasks, the unkempt tail and long mane got better attention and today he thrilled spectators with his proud transformation.

A THOUGHT

For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments; and his commandments are not grievous.—I John 5:3.

Grafitude is the fairest blossom which springs from the soul: and the heart of man knoweth none more fragrant.—Hosea Ballau.

The powers of the courts have been tried along many lines. Now the supreme test is to come in Chicago, where an injunction has been sought to restrain the acts of a young girl said to be afflicted with a case of puppy love.

A jury has found Mrs. Clara Phillips, the hammer slayer, guilty. If the conviction had not been had as the result of the evidence in the case they might as well quit having trials in California where women appear as defendants.

Apropos of Red Cross roll call. Referring to her husband a woman said recently: "I feel so safe now when George is driving the car. You know he has enrolled as a Red Cross aid and knows where all the hospitals are located."

There seems to be a general unanimity of opinion that the Esch-Cummins railroad law should be revised. On the question of just what changes, there is wide difference of opinion. Congress will certainly make an effort to so change the law that it will afford greater insurance against interruption of transportation.

It now seems certain that William Bross Lloyd, millionaire, convicted of conspiracy to overthrow the government, will serve a term in the penitentiary. If Lloyd's wealth does not enable him to escape this punishment, his case will create a greater respect for law and serve as a warning to othr radicals.

Jacksonville is vitally interested in the hearing to be had before the Illinois commerce commission, in which the C. P & St. L. bond holder ask authority to abandon the road. In most quarters the petition is not taken very seriously, but is rather looked upon as an effort to bring affairs of the road to a head.

It is not likely that the tracks will be torn up and the equipment sold for the territory traversed by the road is entitled to the service rendered. But will you tell the bond holders why they must continue to supply a road the revenues of which do not even pay the operating expnss—to say nothing of interest on the investment?

The size of the political upheaval in the recent election is shown in the fact that the next congress will show 129 new congressmen and 18 new senators. Again there is talk of a third party for the next national campaign, ostensibly to be composed of Progressives in the two old parties.

We have a feeling that third party talk can almost always be traced to Democratic sources, as it is so helpful to that party.

MR. METAL MIKE.

Metal Mike is an automatic ship steering device. It looks a lot like a street car motorman's control box. Hook it to a ship's whel and it steers six times more accurately than the best human wheelsman.

The Moffett, largest tanker of the Standard Oil fleet, recently made a 4,000 mile trip in which it was steered almost continuously by Metal Mike.

If the ocean waves twist the ship off her course, Metal Mike instantly detects the deviation from the route mapped out inside him before leaving port automatically Mike whirls the steering wheel and corrects the ship's course.

When you have a device like Metal Mike, by which a ship can practically steer itself from San Francisco to Hong Kong, you have about the nearest- human piece of machinery ever made.

It's enough to have made a skilled navigator like Christopher Columbus drop dead from fright.

It makes you wonder, is there any work we do that eventually will not be duplicated by machinery?

Metal Mike, of course, lacks judgment, the most important quality of a human pilot. That is, Mike can steer a ship to destination—unless another ship gets in the way.

Still, it would not be impossible to improve Mike's cogwheel brain so that, nearing another ship, he automatically would steer away from it.

This would be just the reverse of the selenium torpedo, which automatically pursues its prey, no matter how many twists and turns are taken in the attempt to escape.

We recall an "automatic man" that years ago toured the country in cheap vaudeville houses. It walked. It bowed. It did many stunts. Its operator opened its coat, displaying a maze of machinery visible inside thru a glass.

All went well until a woman, crafty in her knowledge of masculinity, shoved a hatpin into the automatic man's leg. His career ended with a howl.

But, at that, we wouldn't be surprised to wake up one of these mavrelous days and find a genuine automatic man strutting the streets—and possibly running for political office.

CONDITION OF WRIGHT UNCHANGED

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 16.—The condition of General Luke E. Wright, former secretary of war in Roosevelt's cabinet and for several years governor-general of the Philippines, who has been critically ill at his home here for several weeks, was reported unchanged tonight altho his physicians say that he is gradually growing weaker and his death is looked for at any moment.

An erronous report that General Wright had died last night was denied by the family.

General Wright a confederate veteran is 76 years old. He suffered a fall several months ago and since that time his health has failed rapidly.

He was first named to federal office by President McKinley, who appointed him as a member of the Philippine commission and he later served as vice-governor and governor general of the islands, resigning the latter position to accept the post of ambassador to Japan.

FORMER PREMIER MEETS WITH DEFEAT

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 16.—The long drawn out fight between Former Premier Lloyd George and Sir George Younger has for the time ended with victory for the chairman of the Unionist party.

Younger and his adherents staked their political fortunes at the famous Carlton Club meeting which smashed the Coalition and sent Lloyd George into the wilderness on the conviction that the country was ripe for a return to straight party politics and in the firm belief that the nation would support their conviction by sending the conservatives to the house of commons with a good working majority.

Their confidence has been amply justified. Yesterday's elections have returned a parliament with almost the same overwhelming predominance of Conservatives as the last parliament elected in 1918 on a wave of grateful enthusiasm to Lloyd George as "winner of the war."

CONSERVATORY TRIO IN UNUSUAL CONCERT

W. E. Kitch and Misses Eloise Capps and Inez Pires Present Finished Ensemble in Rarely Heard Numbers—Miss Armstrong Sings Group.

A rare treat was in store for those who attended the recital given by Conservatory faculty artists at the Congregational church Thursday evening. Not only were the musicians accurate and sympathetic in blending their work into a unit, but the whole effect presented left few places where the interpretation was not distinguished and satisfactory to the critical ear.

The central position on the three part program was filled by Miss Ruth Melba Armstrong, contralto who by her work showed that she has gone far toward the mastery of a pianissimo, without any loss of ability to command a tremendous forte, probably better in quality for the rarity of its use. Her interpretations were commendably convincing.

The trio numbers presented by W. E. Kritch and Miss Eloise Capps, violinists and Miss Inez Pires, pianist, were exceedingly interesting in composition, presenting good contrast between the several movements of each complete number and between parts one and three of the program.

The Serenade by Sinding showed a more modern spirit than most work of the day when it was written. The out of doors pervades the whole. In the first movement played it seems that the serenader is entreating his love to come forth to share joy and sorrow and the experiences of people thru all time. This number, if any, would repay further study of its dynamics. The second movement is pert and independent. The third done as it was last night, is the most exquisite number of the suite, leading the listener thru flowery fields and to glorious summits. The vigor and contrasting quiet of the final movement is of a kind almost to persuade us that the mating call of the serenader is picturing the pleasures of home and romping children. The trio has been working for the past year on the Sinding work, and it is no paradox to say that they have done well for the time spent, as the work is worth it.

The Godard duets, in contrast, all have the stately air of the castle, ballroom and boudoir. "Midnight" is midnight in a manorial hall; "Sadness," is sadness of a disappointed belle, and the "Serenade" is the serenade of a courtier who thinks himself "the very devil among women." Each number is a short and effective picturization of a mood, and each received artistic treatment at the hands of the local trio.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Who Are They.

Dean H. M. Munford of the college of Ariculture wants a list of the most progressive farmers in the county who have made a success of farming. He does not want brokers, lawyers, or business men who have farms as a side line or who have retired to the farm. He does want men who have started out with comparatively small capital, have built up a good business and are looked upon as the most successful and progressive in the county. We shall be glad to have the assistance of our readers in making this list.

Breeders Meeting

The Breeders of the county are invited to a meeting at the Farm Bureau office, Friday evening, November 17, with view to promoting a Baby Beef Club. Many breeders now favor several local clubs consisting of five or more members with some one acting as local leader, rather than a county wide club.

Short Owned Wild Rye

J. H. Bigger, assistant state field entomologist recently brot a specimen of the above to the Farm Bureau office. He commented on the great numbers seen along the hedges. Its control depends upon prevention of seed production, by mowing or cultivation.

Forcing Rhubarb

"Altho hundreds of market gardeners and a few farmers are forcing rhubarb commercially, few people realize how easily rhubarb may be produced for the home supply thruout the winter months. An area four feet square in the cellar is sufficient to produce the winter's supply of rhubarb for the average family. Forced rhubarb is usually crisp and tender and is less acid than out-door grown rhubarb; and in the winter months fresh rhubarb sauce is particularly palatable. Rhubarb is forced by bringing in good strong roots and giving them proper moisture and temperature conditions. The roots may be bedded in sand or soil or even coal ashes as the forced growth is made entirely from food material stored in the roots. Strong roots of any age may be used, but the largest stalks are generally produced from three or four year old roots. The beds should be thoroly watered whenever necessary to maintain proper growing conditions.

Before attempting to force the roots, it is important that they be thoroly frozen. Freezing and short rest period will result in greatly accelerated growth when the roots are forced. It is best to dig the roots late in the fall just before freezing weather and to cover them with straw so that they will not dry out while they are allowed to freeze. After being thoroly frozen they may be brought in and forced. A temperature of 55 degrees to 60 degrees is ideal for forcing. Lower temperature will result in slower growth and higher temperature will result in spindling stalks. Sunlight is not required for forcing rhubarb. In fact, the best results are secured in the subdued indirect light. Yields should average ten pounds or more per root. It requires about five weeks from the time the forcing commenced until harvesting may begin. The same roots will then continue to produce for six weeks to two months." C. B. Sayre, Department of Horticulture, U. of I.

Spring Flowering Bulbs For The Garden

"Spring flowering bulbs may be planted out of doors from September to December. October is the ideal time for planting, however, as this allows the bulb to become established and make a vigorous root growth before the ground freezes. In preparing the bed, one must bear in mind that good drainage is essential. It is best if the bed or border is raised slightly so that the bulbs are above the level of the adjacent ground.

Put on a liberal application of Put on a lieral application of bone meal, spade the bed deeply, and pulverize the soil. Active fertilizer should never come in contact with the bulbs or decay will surely take place. If one wishes to dig manure into the beds, this should be done in the spring or at least some time before planting.

Tulips, Hyacinths and Narcissi should be planted 4 inches deep and 5-7 inches between bulbs; Anemones 1 inch deep and 6 inches apart; Crocuses 2 inches deep and two inches apart; and lilies 5 inches deep and 12 inches apart. Be sure that bulbs of the same kind are set at the same depth so that there will be a uniform development in the spring, thus making sure that they will all flower at the same time. It is advisable to mulch the beds with straw, leaves, or straw-manure after the ground freezes. This keeps the frost in the ground and prevents the alternate freezing and thrawing which causes the soil to heave, thus injuring the roots. This mulch should be removed early in the spring before the bulbs start into growth.

The Darwins are unquestionably the finest of all the tulips. The Cottage, Breeder, and Parrot types should also be planted more than they have been in the past as in many ways they are superior to the early flowering type which has been grown so largely for many years. The Dutch Hyacinths are seldom used except for forcing under glass. As a rule the singles are more satisfactory than the doubles. Among the Narcissi there are several types which may be used. The Dafodils with the large, medium and short trumpets, come in the yellow, whites and colors: the singles are better than the doubles, the Jonquils, the Poetaz and the Poeticus types. The Polyanthus type which includes the Paper White and the Chinese Sacred Lily is not hardy and so should not be used out of doors." —S. W. Hall, Associated in Floriculture, U. of I.

AN OLD WOMAN NOWADAYS

Modern dress, hair dressers, facial experts and cosmetics all combine to keep women of all ages young and attractive in appearance. Not until the telltale wrinkles become so deep, the figure stoops, or some ailment or weakness develops to drag a woman down does she really look her age.

Every woman owes it to herself and her family to keep herself young in appearance, and happy. When headaches, backache or "the blues" develop or when a woman reaches the trying age from forty-five to fifty, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be depended upon to keep her in health as it has so many other women whose letters we are continually publishing in this paper.—Adv.

WESLEYAN WORKING HARD FOR ILLINOIS

Men Display Lots of "Pep" and Also Get Chalk Talk—Illinois Also Preparing—Is Illinois' Annual Homecoming.

"Pep and lots of it marked Thursday's rehearsal at Wilder Field and at the close of practice Coach Wimberley told his Wesleyan players if they continued to show the same spirit and life in the games that they had in practice this week that they could clean up the remaining contests on the schedule.

"There was a chalk talk last night and there will be another stiff workout this afternoon with the week's practice tapered off with a light signal drill Friday."

The above comes from the Bloomington Panatgraph in regard to Wesleyan's preparations for the game here Saturday with the Illinois College team. With the Millikin scalp taken last Saturday, dangling at the belt the Wesleyan boys are coming down determined to add another victim to their list of the present season.

If past performances mean anything the Green and White pigskin men will have their hands full with the big Blue clad team on the hill.

Records of the last ten years' competition between Illinois college and Wesleyan show that the games have been closely contested with an overwhelmeing number of them won by Illinois college.

The 10 year record:

1913 Illinois, 10; Wesleyan, 9.
1914 Illinois, 20; Wesleyan, 17.
1915 Illinois, 21; Wesleyan, 3.
1916 Illinois, 26; Wesleyan, 0.
1917 Illinois, 6; Wesleyan, 6.
1918 No game. S. A. T. C. year.
1919 Illinois, 27; Wesleyan, 7.
1920 Illinois, 13; Wesleyan, 7.
1921 Illinois, 6; Wesleyan, 17.
1922 Illinois ? Wesleyan ?

When the whistle blows at 2:30 p. m., Saturday afternon, turning the teams loose in their struggle, there will be a desperate battle to determine on which side of the column the larger score will be placed for the year 1922.

Spirit is running high on the campus. The sctudent body is pulling strong for another victory in the wake of the Monmouth and Eureka victories. Part of the student meeting hour yesterday morning was spent in cheers and songs in preparation for Saturday's contest.

A parade headed by the college band will be held on Saturday morning, leaving the gymnasium at 10 o'clock. Any townspeopie wishing to participate in the parade, either marching or in automobiles, are welcome to do so. They are requested to meet at the college gymnasium at the hour named above.

J. H. S. TACKLES QUINCY SATURDAY

Coach Mitchell's Men Have Hard Battle In Prospect—Team Has Been Shifted Because of Hunt's Injury.

Coach Mitchell has been working his High school squad hard this week in preparation for the game with Quincy High Saturday. The game will be played at Quincy.

The Adams county team started away poorly but has been coming strong of late. Last Saturday it trimmed Galesburg high and seems to be in tip top condition. Owing to the illness of Hunt, quarterback, Mitchell has been compelled to make some shifts in his lineup.

Dick Arnold has been shifted to quarterback and is showing up in great form. He runs well with the ball and is getting the calling of signals down so that there is little friction in the work of the backfield.

HOPPE WINS OVER COCHRAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Willie Hoppe won his second match in the international 18.2 balk line championship billard tournament tonight. His victory of 500 to 162 over Welker Cochran was built upon two masive runs of 192 and 169. The third best run was 63. The average of the former champion was 55 5-9. Cochran fell to an average of 20 2-8. Thruout his sizeable runs Hoppe chiefly favored roling caroms of a somewhat free hande variety. His stroke appeared unsuited to sustained nursing. The result was brilliantly played caroms which hsi skill a cushion and position made possible. The match scheduled for Friday bring together Roger Conti, the Frenchman, and Erich Hagenlacher, the German. Jake Schaefer and Edouard Horemans, the Belgian meet in the night contest.

YOUNG ILLINI READY FOR VETERAN MAROONS

Zuppke's Fighting Bunch Held Last Practice Yesterday — Defense Against Maroons is Mystery.

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 16.—The fighting young Illini are ready for the veteran Maroons. The Zuppke dug thir cleats in th Illinois field turf for the last time before the big game. Tomorrow night will find them resting at the South Shore Country club.

That Chicago has a big edge, despite the great victory of Illinois against Wisconsin is conceded by even the staunchest partisans of the Orange and Blue. But they are ready to believe that the spirit of Zuppke's lads will in a great measure atone for their lack of experience as cantrasted with the seasoned men of the Midway.

Little Bob will start the same team that ran out on Camp Randavv at Madison while the haughty Dodger rooters yawned and wondered just how big the score would be. Emil Schultz will play fullback, it seems certain, with Sam Hill ready to relieve him if necessary. Chris Woodward is evidently put out of it with his hand hand.

Zuppke's back field reserves will consist of Pat Stoik, Everett Boyd, Dutch Durant and Yates. Coolidge, Umuna and Oakes will fill in any gaps in the line. Frank Rokusek will relieve whichever end falters. Steve Coutchie will sub for Rune Clark at quarter with George Dawson available as the third man.

Just what kind of a defense Zuppke will present against the strong Maroon front is a mystery. One guess has it that he will adopt Ohio's defense which served pretty well against John Thomas. But the Yuckeyes could not break up the Maroon passing game. That means there will probably be something new—typical of Zuppke strategems.

Illinois' enthusiasts will begin their journeys to the Midway tomorrow and from then on there will be a constant stream by train and motor. George Huff warns all fans to make early starts for the field from the loop, pointing out that last year many persons were caught in congested turnstiles.

There continues to be a brisk demand for tickets for the Ohio-Illinois game.

FARMERS INSTITUTE SESSION AT BLUFFS

Interesting Program Carried Out Thursday — Fine Display of Fruits, Vegetables and Fancy Work.

Bluffs, Nov. 16.—The opening day of the Scott county farmers' institute Thursday was a very successful one. Fully 200 were in attendance at the afternoon session and at night this number was at least doubled.

The sessions were held at Lewis' Opera house. The afternoon session began at 1:30 o'clock and included the following program:

Music—Mrs. E. T. Palmer.
Invocation—Rev. E. J. Rees.
Address—Dr. Elizabeth Ball.
Music—Mrs. Palmer.
Address — "Soil, Limestone, Rock Phosphates and Manure," Prof. R. E. Muckelroy.

The evening program began at 7:30 o'clock and was as follows:

Music—Household Science Club Quartet.
Invocation—Rev. E. T. Palmer.
Address — "The Community Spirit," Prof. Muckelroy.
Report of State Fair Girls' School—Miss Elsie Little. This was an interesting account of the work done by the girls at the school.
Reading, "Husbands Wanted," Miss Maude Vannier.
Address—Dr. Elizabeth Ball. The speaker discussed general health topics, especially emphasizing the importance of the proper shoe for women. She also gave worth while suggestions for the care of children and altogether her address was one which the audience found very much worth while.

An exhibit of fresh and canned fruits and vegetables and fancy work was arranged as a feature of the institute. It is generally conceded that this exhibit is one of the finest which has ever been shown here and the judges will have a difficult task in making awards.

The institute sessions will continue thruout Friday, with an entire change of speakers. The indications are that the attendance will be even larger than on the opening day.

WAVERLY BOY DIES IN SPRINGFIELD

Glenn E. Shearburn Passed Away Thursday After Few Days' Illness from Blood Poisoning—Funeral Probably Saturday.

WAVERLY, Nov. 16. — The community was shocked Thursday by news of the death of Glenn E. Shearburn, son of John G. Shearburn of this place. The boy, who was 14 years of age, had been ill from blood poisoning since Sunday. He was a member of the second high school football team and sustained a slight abrasion on his arm in a game Saturday with a ward school team.

The deceased became ill Sunday morning while at Sunday school and his condition became so serious that he was taken to a Springfield Wednesday. Here his condition grew rapidly worse until the end came as noted.

Surviving are the father, two sisters and one brother, Edith and Catherine Shearburn and Gelder Shearburn, all residing at home. His mother passed away about six months ago.

The remains were brought to Waverly Thursday afternoon and the funeral will probably be held Saturday afternoon, the arrangements having not yet been completed.

The death of young Shearburn is the second fatality during the year in the high school football team, the other player dying last January from blood poisoning following a slight injury received in a football game.

ROTHCHILD PLANT PLANS ENLARGEMENT

Will Open Cutting Department in City Light Plant Building—Plans Addition to Plant at Later Date.

Mention has already been made of the fact that the Rothchild Clothing Co., is to lease the old city light plant building as an addition to its clothing factory. This firm expects to have the room fitted up as a cutting department and will begin the installation of new machinery in the main plant at an early date.

The acquisition of the light plant building means an addition of about 2,700 square feet of floor space, thus greatly relieving the crowded condition at the present plant.

It is the plan of the company to acquire the property to the east of the present factory and to erect thereon a substantial addition to the plant. The plans are now in a tentative state and will not be worked out in a definite way until some future time However, it is understood that the addition contemplated will provide an additional 5,000 feet of floor space. A one story structure is contemplated, with provisions made for additional floors as need requires.

The Braner will case was again heard in the circuit court Thursday, the entire day being given over to the taking of evidence in this case. The taking of evidence will continue today, a number of witnesses yet remaining to be examined. Most of the witnesses examined Thursday told of business transactions they had at various times with the late John H. Everett Penneil vs. Great American Insurance Co., assumpsit. Motion to strike plea from files denied. Motion by defendant for leave to life replication.

E. W. Crawford, et al., vs. Floyd E. Sitherwood, et al., petition to foreclose mechanics lien; dismissed as per stipulation on file.

KIWANIS CLUB HAD REGULAR MEETING

Clubmen Heard Interesting Address at Thursday Luncheon—Plan Banquet for Football Enthusiasts.

The regular meeting of the Kiwanis club was held Thursday noon at the Peacock Inn. The program included musical numbers by Mrs. A. R. Gregory and addresses by Mrs. J. C. Grout of Winchester and F. R. Goodell of the Congoleum Co.

Attendance prizes for the day were awarded to F. R. Rantz and Vorce Bassett. The guest list of the day included Mrs. A. B. Applebee, Mrs. J. C. Grout, Mrs. A. R. Gregory, Judge E. S. Smith of Springfield; Dr. C. E. Black, Dr. H. A. Chapin, M. C. Hook, C. H. Temple and H. L. Smeltzer.

Plans were made for a banquet to be given Monday evening, December 4, for all football enthusiasts of the community and their guests. It is the plan to have an address at this time by Major Griffith of Chicago.

Mrs. Gregory sang three selections, "Smiling Thru," "Lovely Night," and "Love Winds," with Willard Wesner as accompanist.

Mrs. Grout spoke briefly of the aims of the American Association of University Women, referring especially to the play to be given tonight by the local chapter to add to the scholarship fund of the organization.

Cole Y. Rowe, chairman of the program committee, then introduced Mr. Goodell for the main address of the afternoon. Mr. Goodell described in an interesting way the manufacture of Congoleum rugs. He also gave his auditors some idea of the way in which the article is advertised and distributed. At the close of the talk each member of the club was presented a small congoleum rug as a souvenir.

ANOTHER C. P. & ST. L. SALE REPORT

The glad rumor was current yesterday that Henry Ford is about to purchase the C. P. & St. L. road. Just what he purposed to do with the property was not set forth, but that is a matter of secondary consideration so far as the public is concerned.

Certainly the C. P. & St. L. has been the most sold road in the United States, if rumored sales are counted.

ANOTHER DROP IN PRICE OF GASOLINE

Announcement was made yesterday by the Standard Oil Co., of another two cent cut in the price of gasoline. This will mean a reduction of that amount thruout the country in the course of the next day or two. Records show gas price decline ever since last June, and this happened notwithstanding the fact that July and August are counted the heaviest consumption months in the year.

HIGH SCHOOL TURNS OUT CHRISTMAS CARDS

Were Designed and Engraved at School—Promise to be Popular With Students and Their Friends.

Some very attractive Christmas card have been designed and engraved at the Jacksonville high school and promise to be most popular with the students and their friends . The cards bear an etching of the entrance to the high school building and a little Christmas verse. The picture was selected from the work of the high school art class under the direction of Miss Harriet Seibert.

The students in the out door sketch class made drawings of the entrance to the high school building and the sketch by Russ Ludwig was chosen as the best. The sketch was sent away and a zinc etching made from which the picture on the Christmas cards is taken.

"Doors are thrown open at Christmas time,
As symbols of greetings true,
So let this door of J. H. S.
Be a glad Christmas greeting to you."

Old Age and Glasses

The gradual decrease of ocular power which accompanies old age should not be considered contrary to nature any more than it is for the hair to turn gray, the teeth to become defective, or the muscles to weaken.

Besides as age advances, the other physical faculties are apt to be used less and less, and the eyes more and more.

Artificial aid is therefore to be expected and should always be resorted to at the first indication of failing eyesight. Call and let us fit you with the glasses your eyes require.

---and no one could quite say when Sibyl Sanderson Fagan paused and the New EDISON took up her performance.

Perfection of the NEW EDISON Demonstrated in Unique Tone Test at the Northminster Church

It is asking too much of any device of metal and wood to expect it even to approximate the tones of living artists.

Yet before a large audience in the Northminster church last night, the remarkable NEW EDISON proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that a mechanical instrument can Re-Create the very living performances of famous artists.

Sibyl Sanderson Fagan, well-known whistler, whistled in direct comparison with the Re-Creation of her art by the NEW EDISON. Even critical hearers could detect no difference between Miss Fagan's actual performance and its Re-Creation.

Could any other phonograph sustain this test? No other has ever attempted it.

All that has been claimed for the unequalled realism of NEW EDISON Re-Creations is established in fact by last night's matchless performance.

Miss Fagan took her place on the stage beside a graceful Chippendale cabinet. The delight of her golden tones reached out through the auditorium to scores of attentive music-lovers.

Unexpectedly—she stopped whistling. The NEW EDISON at her side took up the thread of her selection and, in the rich, bird-like tones of the whistler, continued it alone.

Whistler and phonograph alternated to the end. So exactly like Miss Fagan's living performance was the Re-Created tone from the NEW EDISON, it was only by watchng the movement of the artist's lips that they could be certain of the distinction.

Similar tests were made by George Wilton Ballard, tenor, and Harold Lyman, flutist and saxophonist. Their singing and instrumental selections could not be distinguished from the Re-Created performance—depth and quality of tone were identical—no difference could be be found.

With the conclusion of the concert, it had been proved that the NEW EDISON is truly the artist in all but physical presence. Could better evidence be offered than the personal experience of a discriminating audience utterly convinced?

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

Was the instrument used last night a special model? Most emphatically, no! Taken from regular stock, this NEW EDISON is known as an Official Laboratory Model. Each Official Laboratory Model in our stock is guaranteed to sustain the same test of direct comparison with living artists. One of these remarkable instruments is waiting to be delivered to your home. Come in and hear it. And let us tell you about our Budget Plan, which brings this model into your home for no more than you would "pay down" for a talking machine.

CLOSE OF WHEAT MARKET UNSETTLED

CHICAGO, Nov. 16. — Altho broadening of general speculative interest today led to the highest prices yet this season for all deliveries of grain except the December delivery of wheat, heavy profit-taking sales brought about a subsequent reaction. Wheat closed unsettled at ⅜c net decline to ⅜c advance, with December $1.19¾ to $1.19⅞ and May $1.16⅝ to $1.16⅞. Corn finished unchanged to ⅛c higher; oats unchanged to ¼c off and provisions varying from 2c lower to 15c gain.

Selling of wheat in the last part of the session appeared to be based largely on gossip that after three days advance some setback was to be looked for. Besides export conditions at the east were said to be bearish New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore facilities being talked of as practically blocked with no shipping directions coming into relieve the congestion. There were indications furthermore that grain loadings on western and northwestern roads were increasing as compared to last year. Offerings here however, were readily absorbed.

Commission houses reported the largest general speculative interest in many months and it was to this fact chiefly that the decided upward swing of the market during the first half of the day was ascribed. Strength in corn values had an additional stimulating effect and so too did reports that flour mills were picking up cash wheat and working full capacity to supplies of the close of navigation of the Great Lakes.

CASH GRAIN REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Demand for wheat in the cash market was good today and offernngs were light. Actual sales were higher and premiums on red grades were ½c to 1c better. The seaboard reported 750,000 bushels worked for export.

Corn was in good demand and actual sales were ½c better as compared with yesterday's close. Premiums finished unchanged to ½c higher. Cash sales here were 150,000 bushels.

Oats were in good demand and the market closed ½c higher whereas premiums were unchanged. Cash sales were 50,000 bushels. Sales of 50,000 bushels oats were made to go to store here.

STOCK MARKET MADE FURTHER RECOVERY

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The stock market made further recovery from its recent acute depression in the early part of today's active and varied dealings, but fell back sharply later. Dealings were largely professional and suggested a more general readjustment of traders' contracts.

Sentiment in speculative circles seemed to be sustained at the outset by yesterday's many declarations of dividend disbursements, maintenance of the high rate of production in basic industrial and cumulative evidence of increased activity in many lines of business.

Money conditions also favored the market's constructive side.

Leaders of the steel, equipment and motor divisions, as featured by United States Steel, Baldwin Locomotive and Studebaker made their usual substantial contributions to the session at forenoon gains of one to two points, but these were more than cancelled later.

Rails did not figure to an important extent in the day's business altho authoritative advices from the principal centers of transportation reported a continuance of heavy tonnage movements to tidewater and other points of distribution. Some of the junior rails which are not meeting their fixed charges were under occasional selling pressure.

Net losses ranged from one to six points among popular stocks.

Sales amounted to 1,100,000 shares.

The Paris rate was at its highest level in over a fortnight, Italian and Belgian remittances rose appreciably and German marks were fairly firm despite latesa political and economic developments in that country.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS — A Striking Peculiarity — BY BLOSSER

FINE RECITAL PROGRAM AT NORTHMINSTER

Celebrated Artists Heard in Splendid Program at Northminster Church Thursday Night.

Probably a number of people who attended the recital given last night by Miss Sibyl Sanderson Fagan, whistler, and George Wilton Ballard, Harold Lyman, flutist and saxophones at Northminster church were puzzled and disappointed when they discovered a phonograph cabinet occupying the center of the stage.

Mr. Harold Lyman appeared and in a short and interesting address told of the birth of the phonograph by Mr. Thomas A. Edison some forty years ago. A short history of the development of the phonograph followed Mr. Lyman pointing out the fact that Mr. Edison's ambition to perfect an instrument which would re-create music so perfectly that the re-creation would be indistinguishable from the original performance.

Miss Fagan was introduced and took her position beside the new Edison. Both artist and phonograph started the selection, but suddenly Miss Fagan paused and the New Edison carried on the melody so perfectly that it was impossible to distinguish one from the other without watching the artist closely.

In the course of the evening similar tests were made by Mr. Ballard and Mr. Lyman with the same miraculous result. There must have been a slight difference in volume when the artists stopped singing or playing but it was not noticeable for the tone which came from the cabinet was round and luscious with all the vibrant, pulsating quality of that which came directly from the artists' throats and the instruments.

This proof was convincing. If it were not, another proof was offered. After Mr. Ballard had commenced to sing one number, the lights were turned out—ostensibly so that the audience could not watch the singer's lips.

It did not seem difficult to determine in the dark when the singer sang and when he did not. The writer was pretty sure about it himself until the lights were turned on again and it was discovered that Mr. Ballard was not on the stage at all and that the new Edison alone had been heard.

The program follows:

1. (a) L'Ardita, Arditi.
(b) Simplicity, Lee.
1. (a) I Did Not Know, Bingham.
(b) When Honey Sings an Old Time Song, Carey.
Mr. Ballard with the Edison records of his voice.
3 (a) Through the Air, Damm.
(b) Love's Old Sweet Song, Molloy.
Mr. Layman with Edison records of Piccolo and Saxophone.
4 (a) The Bird and the Saxophone, Ring-Hager.
(b) Serenata, Mockowitz.
(c) Narcissus, Nevin.
5 (a) The Lord is My Light, Allitsen.
(b) My Mother's Evening Prayer, Green.
Mr. Ballard with the Edison records of his voice.
6 (a) Charmant Oisean (La Perle du Bresil), David.
7 (a) The Trumpter, Dix.
(b) Your Eyes Have Told Me So, Hardy.
Mr. Ballard with the Edison records of his voice.
8 (a) The Bird at the Waterfall, Ring-Hager.
(b) Melody in "F" Rubinstein.
